2022 Input Finance Program Guidelines
For Wheat and Fall Crops

Guidelines:

- Complete enclosed credit application and program form.
- Include a “signed and dated” current financial statement, current cash flow statement, copy of most recent year’s tax return.
- Include proof of multi-peril crop insurance, with a minimum of 70% coverage. Prefer CRC type coverage.
 - An “Assignment of Indemnity of Crop Insurance” will be submitted to crop insurance carrier.
- A UCC will be filed with a first or second lien on the growing crop(s).
- Customer will sign promissory note, security agreement, and guaranty letter if applicable.
- Customer must bring their grain to Skyland Grain, LLC for this upcoming year.

Benefits:

- Customer(s) input purchases throughout the month for growing crops are billed to their Input Finance account. Skyland Grain will manage the Input Finance account from the time of customer approval until the due date. We will include a spreadsheet with your billing statement reflecting the transactions applied to the Input Finance Account throughout the month.
- In addition, the Input Finance Program allows our customer(s) to take advantage of the Skyland Grain, LLC fertilizer discount when applicable.
- Customer(s) on our program are not required to make payment until maturity date. Our wheat crop maturity due date is August 1, 2022, and our fall crop maturity due date is January 2, 2023. If a customer decides to pay-off their Input Finance account before the above specified due date, there is no prepayment penalty.
